

A Disaster Picnic – Class 2A

Once upon a time a dog was running quickly through the forest. It was running because it could smell a delicious meat pie.

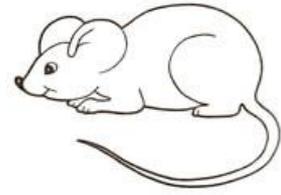

A man was enjoying a picnic in the forest on his own. He had a meat pie, a banana, cheese, milk and a lollipop.

A monkey was nearby and wanted the banana.

A little mouse poked his head out of his house because he could smell the cheese.

A cat was relaxing in the sunshine when it smelled the milk.

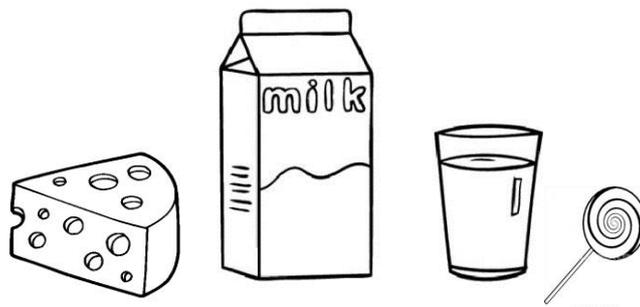

The monkey swung down from the branches of the tree and grabbed the banana. The man quickly chased after the monkey to try to take the banana back.

While the man was chasing the monkey the dog ate all of his delicious pie. The man saw the dog eating the pie and shouted:

“Stop! Stop! Stop!”

While he was shouting at the dog, the monkey got away with the banana. The man was angry because he was very hungry and the dog had eaten his pie and the monkey had eaten his banana. Now he only had cheese, milk and a lollipop for his picnic.

The man sat down once more to enjoy his picnic on his own.

The mouse crept quietly to steal the cheese. The cat saw the mouse and went running after it to eat it. The dog saw the cat chasing the mouse so it started barking and running after the cat.

While the dog was chasing the cat, the mouse took the cheese and ran home to his house to eat it.

When the man saw the dog that ate all of his delicious pie he started shouting and chasing after the dog. While the man was shouting and chasing after the dog, the cat drank all of the milk.

Now the man only had a lollipop for his picnic. The man was very tired from chasing after the dog. He decided to sleep for a short time. While he was sleeping an ant took the lollipop and carried it to his nest.

When the man woke up he saw that the lollipop was gone and he was very sad. He packed up his picnic and went home to make another lunch.
